JL Walsh Silk/Wool Thread Has Been Discontinued!

Due to unfortunate circumstances, this wonderful thread is no longer manufactured. I have a lot of it available. If you have your eye on it for a project, now is the time to stock up!

Save Our Scissors!

When I placed an order with my distributor, I was advised they are out of stock of many of our favorite models, and would not be reordering until such time as the dollar becomes stronger against the euro. If you travel, you would be well advised to leave your prized pair in your sewing basket! FAA rules on what is allowed in airplane cabins seem to change on a dime! You might not be able to replace the confiscated pair.
